ERP Implementation

Product: Oracle Financials

Client: Financial Services and HR/Payroll Company

A leading information services company that serves the human resources, transportation and media markets.

The Project:

This financial systems re-engineering project involved the implementation of a new suite of billing and financial applications. Our consultant team had the responsibility of coordinating the vendor selection, purchasing, and final installation of the system as well as providing the specifications for the hardware to be utilized. Oracle Financials was selected for the financial re-engineering project. WiseSoft, Inc. was involved in the design and development of the project plan to manage the conversion efforts from the legacy system to Oracle Financials and provided the analysis and documentation of all interfaces incoming and outgoing from the JD Edwards system. We designed and developed a common interface methodology to pull together the many disparate interfaces to the existing JD Edwards system to work with Oracle Applications and helped define the Oracle coding and configuration management standards for the implementation. We documented the ASIS business process model. This was an essential part of the process redesign efforts and a critical feed for the formulation of the TOBE process and mapping into Oracle Applications. We also provided functional consultants for the project implementation.

The Results:

Reduction of operational costs by more efficiently utilizing technology to streamline processes and reduce resource requirements.
